Career Objective

My master's degree in computer application and natural strength as a creative writer makes me a good technical writer. In both ways I have excelled as a writer. Be it over 325 articles in Times of India or documentation and manual for greatest hospitality and Cruise Company of USA, I emerged as a winner. I just aim to break limits and write most comprehensible documents and copy, no matter how difficult the concept or idea is.

Strengths

- Adept at content development. I have written several Users' Manuals for API, Web services, whole product, and have redefined the release notes writing.
- Created content for many websites with SEO in mind.
- At my present job, I am responsible for all sort of information designing. Be it crafting of user friendly messages, system notifications, or even emails to clients.
- Adept at writing executive summaries, white papers, and proposal documents.
- I have a deep desire to stand out in crowd. This keeps me busy creatively all the time.
- I create ideas and can explain them to anyone in most easy way.
- I have been a good editor having a sharp eye on details of content.
- I am also comfortable for work from home as have a proper setup at home.
- I always want to exceed the expectation that people have on me. It helps me stay ahead.
- Ability to stay cool and perform well even in pressure situation.
- I have been very successful as a team player.
- I have been responsible for direct client interaction because of excellent communication skills.
